> Hi baby. I love you. I spoke with Case Kendrick (via messages) and she said that she & her sister Trice are keeping us in their thoughts & prayers. I told her we'll do the same. She said to tell you they are family not friends. I told her I'd tell you. Let's have a blessed game tonight.

> 2:41 a.m. Where is my baby at right now? What is he doing? Is he thinking about me? Missing me so much that his chest feels like it could explode - the same way I am missing him? Is he also crying tears of pain because of the distance between us? Dear God please help us. Please remove all of these barriers and let us finally be together again for once and for all. Forever. Please let him know how sorry I am and how much I miss him. How much I love him. I can't take this pain. Baby won't you come and take this pain away...

My precious baby - where are you right now? I need you so much. God it hurts so bad. Please forgive me. How could I ever have let another man touch me? I'm so sorry. Seeing you crying like this and the pain that I've caused you - I'm so sorry. I love you more than life itself. I can't live without you. No air. Please come back to me. I can't take this pain. I miss you. Please God forgive me.

Dear God you make me feel so good, baby.

The things you do to me.

The way you make love to me.

You're driving me crazy.

I can't get enough of you.

You say you feel the same way too -

I'm so glad.

Your love is intoxicating baby. You bring tears to my eyes. Heal me.

Yes, I do want to have your babies - the ones you keep showing me.

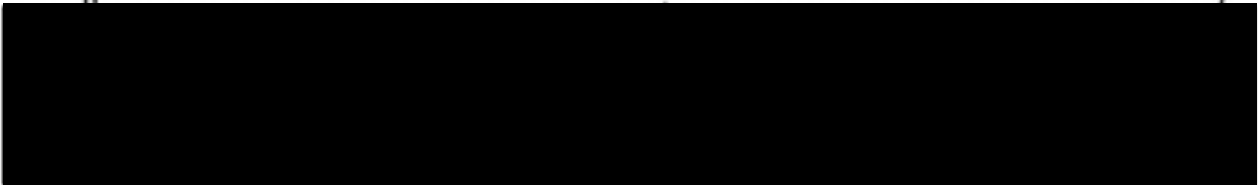

Our beautiful sons. Place them in my womb now.

You are so precious.

I love you so much. Come to me.
