FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Britney Spears and Her Bodyguards Responsible For the Vicious and Unprovoked Attack on Two Photographers.

Las Vegas, Nevada -- On July 26th, 2007 at approximately 11:30 a.m. photographers Andrew Deetz and Kyle Henderson were taking pictures at a safe distance of approximately 30-50 feet of Britney Spears as she was exiting the Spa of the Wynn Hotel Las Vegas accompanied by two bodyguards. When Kyle Henderson attempted to get closer for a better picture, he was slammed into an adjacent wall by Julio Camera, one of the two bodyguards. Mr. Camera proceeded to squeeze Mr. Henderson against the wall until Wynn security intervened and requested Mr. Henderson to leave the hotel.

While Mr. Henderson was being escorted out of the hotel, he was joined by Mr. Deetz, who had until then remained approximately 50 feet away from Ms. Spears and her group. When Mr. Henderson and Mr. Deetz were no less than 30 paces from Ms. Spears and her group and walking away in the opposite direction, Mr. Camera suddenly and without any provocation ran up to Mr. Deetz in a rage and attacked him from behind. Mr. Camera proceeded to throw Mr. Deetz on the ground and began brutally beating Mr. Deetz. Throughout the vicious attack, Mr. Deetz remained helpless on the floor of the hotel receiving a barrage of punches and kicks to the head and body until Wynn security finally was able to pull Mr. Camera off of him. The injuries received by Mr. Deetz were extensive and included multiple bruises to his face and head as well as injuries to his back, neck, and other parts of his body.

Immediately after the attack, Ms. Spears ran towards Mr. Henderson and attempted to physically attack him but was stopped by Wynn security. While Ms. Spears was being restrained by Wynn security, she threw a baby bottle at Mr. Henderson. Ms. Spears then turned to Mr. Deetz and, in front of hotel guests and other bystanders, began to yell repeatedly at the top of her voice to Mr. Deetz, "I am going to kill you! I am going to fucking kill you!" Ms. Spears also shouted that Mr. Deetz should get a restraining order against her because she was going to kill him and if she wasn't able to kill him she would hire someone that would.

At no time prior to or during these vicious attacks by Mr. Camera and Ms. Spears, did either Mr. Deetz or Mr. Henderson get anywhere near Ms. Spears, her children, or the two bodyguards. The physical and verbal attacks were completely unprovoked and, despite any recent false accusations made by Ms. Spears, Mr. Deetz and Mr. Henderson always remained at a considerable and safe distance from Ms. Spears and her children. Neither Ms. Spears nor her children were attacked, threatened, injured, or in any danger during this incident.

The Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department was called and arrived at the scene at approximately 12p.m. Mr. Camera was issued a citation for misdemeanor battery. The police investigated allegations by Ms. Spears that Mr. Henderson battered her child, but no arrest was made and no citations were issued.

Mr. Deetz was later taken to a hospital for treatment of the various injuries he received from the attack. He continues to receive treatment for his injuries.

Mr. Camera has a history of excessively violent and aggressive behavior with photographers, including Mr. Deetz. Apparently, Mr. Camera has targeted Mr. Deetz specifically during the past week. On July 23, 2007, outside of the Lisa Kline boutique in Beverly Hills, California, after he initiated a pushing match with other photographers, Mr. Camera singled out Mr. Deetz and threateningly stated, "I have unfinished business with you." Mr. Camera has also told other photographers prior to the incident in Las Vegas that "he has unfinished business" with Mr. Deetz, clearly indicating a motivated and intentional plan to injure Mr. Deetz.

Venture Advocate Law Corporation, a Century City law firm, is representing Mr. Deetz in the anticipated civil action.
